Section 9 Personal statement

Section 10 Criminal convictions

To help the University reduce the risk of harm or injury to its students caused by the criminal behaviour of other students, we must know about any relevant criminal convictions that an applicant has.

Relevant criminal convictions are only those convictions for offences against the person, whether of a violent or sexual nature, and convictions for offences involving unlawfully supplying controlled drugs or substances where the conviction concerns commercial drug dealing or trafficking. Convictions that are spent (as defined by the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974) are not considered to be relevant and you should not reveal them (see the next paragraph).

If you are applying for courses in teaching, health, social work and courses involving work with children or vulnerable adults, you must tell us about any criminal convictions, including spent sentences and cautions (including verbal cautions) and bind-over orders. For these courses, you may need an 'enhanced disclosure document' from the Criminal Records Bureau or the Scottish Criminal Records Office Disclosure Service. The University will send you the appropriate documents to fill in. You may find the details below useful.

Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974

Applicants with criminal convictions should be aware of the provisions of the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974 as they affect those with spent sentences. Advice about whether you will be required to declare a conviction can be obtained from a solicitor, the National Association for the Care and Resettlement of Offenders (NACRO), the Probation Service or the Citizens Advice Bureau.
